Fiery Calgary Girl is Subject of New Super Channel Documentary

Calgary fire eater, magician and nonmonogamous relationship trailblazer Carisa Hendrix is the subject of a feature-length documentary airing this month (October) on the Super Channel. Carisa Hendrix: Girl on Fire provides an intriguing look into the secret world of polyamorous entertainer Carisa Hendrix as she strives to launch her own theatrical magic show in the competitive city of Las Vegas.

Raised in Calgary and educated at the Alberta College of Art and Design, Carisa is making her mark on the world of show biz in her own unconventional style. A Guinness World Record Holder and sideshow stunt girl, this documentary chronicles her most ambitious project to date. Temporola, the only all-female magic show to be staged in Las Vegas last year, was entirely self-produced and included a combination of singing, dancing, circus, sideshow & magic. Carisa Hendrix: Girl on Fire recorded the real-life struggle of Carisa and her team (some of whom were her romantic partners) as they raced against the clock with only three months to create and perform the show. "This was one of the scariest thing I've ever done" said Hendrix. "I knew I could lose everything, all the investments and my relationships, in one fell swoop."

With a production cost of $45,000, including a successful Kickstarter campaign, this live show forced Carisa to put everything on the line. It also brought together the most important people in her life for the very first time, including multiple lovers from her unconventional polyamorous lifestyle. The drama that ensued from this and the behind-the-scenes struggle is delightfully captured in this professionally produced documentary, created by Calgary-based Pyramid Productions and directed by Buddy Day.

Carisa Hendrix is a Guinness World Record holder (2014 Book, p. 86) and award-winning performer who has been featured in Ripley's Believe it or Not and a number of television shows. She has been thrilling audiences all over Canada and internationally for the past ten years with her signature blend of classy, cute comedy entertainment. Magician, sideshow stunt girl, circus artist, stilt walker and balloon sculptor, Hendrix is a well-rounded theatrical entertainer and the Artistic Director of Ballyhoo Entertainment in Calgary.
